The Benefits

Independence and control

Concur's Travel solution works with any travel management company, corporate credit card provider or GDS. Robust business rules combined with automated pre-trip approval ensure consistent travel policy enforcement – putting organisations in complete control of their corporate travel booking process.

Easy online travel booking

From a single, intuitive cloud-based interface, travellers can quickly and simultaneously book local and international flights, hire cars, hotel and rail reservations guided by your organisation's specific policies.

Open travel inventory

Concur's technology is independent of any travel agency or GDS – enabling the delivery of a broad selection of content. This allows Concur to focus solely on helping organisations streamline and drive costs out of their travel programmes.

Direct access to travel inventory with Concur Connect

Concur® Connect, a global programme connecting travel suppliers and mobile solutions from around the world, provides clients with exclusive access to inventory and services otherwise unavailable through traditional travel programmes. Once travel is completed, participating travel suppliers can deliver complete electronic folio data in the form of electronic receipts (e-receipts) directly into the business traveller's expense claim.

Reduced travel booking fees

Easy-to-use tools drive adoption, which reduces programme leakage and reliance on travel agent-assisted reservations. This can significantly cut fees associated with booking travel by as much as 79 percent per booking transaction.*

Increased visibility through analysis and reporting

Concur offers extensive on-demand reporting and analytic capabilities making it easy to capture, consolidate and present travel spend data. To ensure supplier contracts are optimised, Concur's analytics tools make it quick and easy to track preferred supplier use. Managers can access time-sensitive information to conduct spending analyses and forecasts to help drive down costs and fully leverage their organisation's negotiated discounts.

Mobile capabilities

Ensuring business travellers are more productive on the go, Concur includes mobile capabilities at no extra cost to give travellers the power and flexibility to manage their travel itineraries from their mobile device. Travellers can get real time flight status details, view travel itineraries, get directions and hire cars.
